Sponsors

Oklahoma City University School of Law

Oklahoma City University School of Law is located in Oklahoma City, Okla., and is fully accredited by the American Bar Association and is a member of the American Association of Law Schools. OCU School of Law contributes to the improvement of law and legal institutions through research and scholarship, and prepares students to become responsible professionals through a rigorous program of instruction that focuses on students' intellectual and professional development and enables them to become leaders in law, business, government and civic life.

---

Stetson University College of Law

Stetson University College of Law is located in Gulfport, Fla., and is fully accredited by the American Bar Association and is a member of the American Association of Law Schools. Founded in 1900, Stetson is Florida's first law school. Stetson is consistently ranked among the top law schools in the United States for trial advocacy and legal writing and offers Master of Laws (LL.M.) programs in international law and elder law.

---

The University of Tulsa College of Law

The University of Tulsa College of Law is located in Tulsa, Okla., and is fully accredited by the American Bar Association and a member of the American Association of Law Schools. The University of Tulsa College of Law, a private law school with a total enrollment of less than 500, offers special opportunities to J.D. and LL.M. candidates for leadership and academic excellence that few other law schools offer - opportunities that will enhance each students' legal education and professional development in a collegial atmosphere where students collaborate and faculty have a true open-door policy.

---

Mercer University School of Law

Located in Macon, Ga., the Mercer University Walter F. George School of Law is fully accredited by the American Bar Association and is a member of the American Association of Law Schools. It is one of the oldest law schools in the country, founded in 1873. Mercer's model curriculum focuses on ethics and practical skills. It was honored with the Gambrell Professionalism Award from the American Bar Association for its "depth and excellence" and "obvious commitment to professionalism." Mercer also offers the top legal writing program in the country, according to a peer survey conducted by U.S. News & World Report.
Charleston School of Law

Charleston School of Law offers a comprehensive, three-year law program amid the beauty and grace of one of the South's oldest and most prestigious cities. Charleston students participate in mentoring programs with the local bar association in a city anchored by an area known as the "Four Corners of Law."

---

Roger Williams University School of Law

The Roger Williams University School of Law is the only law school in Rhode Island, and offers future attorneys a rigorous, world-class legal education in a supportive, personalized environment. A top-notch faculty and strong student culture, plus a commitment to public service, drive the school's rapidly growing reputation for preparing graduates for practice in a complex, interconnected world.

---

Nova Southeastern University - Shepard Broad Law Center

NSU Law Center is one of 16 graduate and professional schools of Nova Southeastern University, the largest private independent university in Florida and within the top 10 in the US. The Law Center is approved by the American Bar Association and is a member of the American Association of Law Schools. NSU is located in suburban Fort Lauderdale in close proximity to the federal and state courts, agencies, and legal communities of Fort Lauderdale, Miami, and West Palm Beach in the heart of South Florida's fast-growing Broward, Miami-Dade, and Palm Beach Counties.

---

Nankai University School of Law

Nankai University School of Law is located in Tianjin, one of the four special cities directly under the jurisdiction of China's central government in Beijing and is the fastest growing city economically in China. Nankai University was founded in 1919 and is one of the top universities in China. Tianjin and Beijing are connected by commuter bullet trains that take about 30 minutes each way.